The Cartoon Bird

Biking into wind
near Kiwanis Island

and a pelican sticks above. It gives up and reverses,

like a bird in a cartoon.

Now, the wind behind, it still cannot fly! Concludes my science ego, “Trapped in a narrow whirlwind, a column of equi-directional air!”

Suddenly plummets to explode Sykes creek, emerging with a fish!

We all try using
conditions, an art
of course.
